

mgr Dominika Bardzińska

Zakład Metodologii i Pedagogiki Twórczości

Akademia Pedagogiki Specjalnej w Warszawie

email: dbardzinska@aps.edu.pl

Around the profile of teacher of talented students

The article includes theoretical considerations about the personality traits, competence and skills of teachers to support the development of children and young people with special educational needs, such as gifted pupils. Undoubtedly, the teacher is one of the key factors responsible for the detection and proper development of student abilities. Professionals from Academy of Special Education are trained in this direction, and the National Qualifications Framework, which in 2012 year came into force on Polish universities allow for a detailed representation of the silhouette of graduate specialty of Computer science pedagogy and pedagogy of capability APS.

MA Dominika Bardzińska, employed as an assistant in the Department of Methodology and Pedagogy of Creativity APS. In the circle of her scientific and research interests are environmental conditions for the development of interests and abilities, participation in the development of modern technology, interests and abilities of children and young people, and computer-aided teaching.